Edna Plant Wins Award In Third Quarter Contest

Employees of Edna Plant have been presented a handsome walnut plaque for operating the safest Cone plant during the Cone Mills Third quarter Accident Prevention Contest. Edna employees came through the months of July, August, and September 1955 with only three medical care injuries and no injuries causing disability. The plaque was engraved "To employees of Edna Plant, No lost time accidents during contest, July, August, and September 1955."

The plaque was presented during a safety meeting of Edna Plant supervisors last Friday. It will be on display for a period in each department of the plant after which it will be permanently hung in the plant office.

A similar plaque will be presented to Cone Mills Power employees on Saturday, Nov. 19. Power employees had no medical care accidents of any kind during the three months of the contest. They competed with Randleman Plant, Knox's men, Cone Mills Electricians, Central Maintenance, and Rayon Dyeing and Finishing.

Edna Plant competed with ten other Cone plants. Scores were kept in points representing non-disabl-

Activities Started At Recreation Center

Cone Recreation Center opened its bowling alleys to the public in this area yesterday. Evenings are being reserved for adults .

The center also began courses in life saving yesterday. Junior Red Cross instruction is being given to those from 12 to 15 years old, and senior Red Cross instruction to those 16 and over. There is still time to enter as late as next Tuesday.

Edna Plant Wins Million Man-Hour Safety Trophy

Employees of Edna Plant, Cone Mills Corporation, have completed more than a million working hours without a disabling injury in the plant. A blue and gold "one million man-hour award" bearing the Cone seal is now being prepared.

Edna is the third Cone plant to operate for more than 1,000,000 employee hours (man-hours) without a disabling injury. Print Works and Tabardrey were previous winners of the award.

Prox.-Print Works Community Club Meet

Proximity-Print Works Community Club will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, November 22, in the Ladies Social Room of the Proximity YMCA at 7:30 p.m. All members and any other woman in the surrounding communities are cordially invited to attend.

RETIREMENT GIFT—Baskin L. Wood, second from left, front row, last week retired from his job in the Spinning Department of Proximity Plant. His co-workers presented him with a gift. They are, front row, Wyley Patterson, Mrs. Nellie Bell, Herman Scruggs, Miss Bessie Scott; second row, Charlie Medley, Kelly Blum, Carl Ham, Miss Ella Bell, Herman Matherly, Mrs. Edna Blum, Tommie Ammons, Mrs. Beatrice Murphy, Mrs. Margaret Tate, Mrs. Foy Bateman, Mrs. Addie Riley, Mrs. Pauline Butler; back row, Dennis Curtis, Henry Preddy, Raymond Kincaid, Charlie Yarborough, James Morrison and Bert Oldham. Mr. Wood had been employed at Proximity for 28 years. He lives at 1211 Walnut Street.

Cone Toastmasters Invite New Members

The following members will constitute the program for the Cone Toastmasters on November 21; toastmaster, James Jarrett; topic master, Byron Calhoun; evaluator, Kermit Henderson, word critic, Harold Carpenter, invocation, Ray Smith, speakers, Wade Wiley, Jim Ward, and George Lilly.

"Everyone benefits from toastmastering: the speaker, the critic, the listener. There is not a single man who has not benefited in some way from being a toastmaster. Even if he gave only one speech a term (and who would be that lazy?) look at the tremendous amount of general knowledge he would gain from the topic sessions and other members' speeches," states one of the members.

"He has the opportunity to build his vocabulary, to learn how better to organize his talks, to perfect clumsy gestures and awkward posture. He receives both criticism and praise from the evaluator and has a chance to "dish it out" also. Whether he realizes it or not, this training enables each man to be a more useful citizen in his community, in his church work, and on the job —all this plus being able to stand and speak before a group without quaking in his boots.

"Nearly everyone is called on to "say a word" or tell "a little something about" some topic at one time or another. It may be just a simple invocation, but can you handle the situation gracefully? If you are in doubt, better come on over to the Cone Toastmasters meeting on Monday."

Is Six To 12-Yr.-Old Neglected In Nutrition

(This is the second in a series of articles written by members of the Guilford County Health Department. Today's article is by Miss Winston Osborne, nutritionist.)

Is the six to 12 year old child the most neglected, nutritionally, in the average family? Is the noon meal the best meal in the child's day?

Some authorities suggest this may be so, pointing to the present great parent interest in the proper feeding of the "under six" and "over 12" age groups. Johnny or Susie more and more these days is given a good start in life going from a well planned pretnatal diet to a sensible infant feeding program, and into the expanding and varied diet for the one to six year old.

Then food as a part of Johnny's health program, may take a back seat until the teens—when rapid growth and a greater appetite demand attention at the family table.

But between the ages of six and 12 are perhaps the most important years of your child's life in terms of learning and practicing good food habits which can last a lifetime. At perhaps no time in life will the child be more eager to learn and more interested in developing good health habits than during grade school days.

Between six and 12, too, may be the time when poor food habits will begin to give off definite "danger" signals to an observing parent. Such signals may show up in

Y's Men To Sponsor Night Of Harmony

A night of harmony is theme for the musical show to be presented at the Proximity School Saturday night, November 26 at 8:00 o'clock. The show features a variety of musical entertainment and a cast of 50 entertainers.

Heading the list are four outstanding quartets of television and radio fame, who will carry the audience back to the roaring twenties with their barber shop style quartet singing. In addition, a chorus of 30 men under the direction of Maestro Baxter Westmoreland will render a series of popular melodies. This group, The Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., played before hundreds at Proximity school last year.

To round out an evening of music, the famous English accordionist and television personality, Sid Hellier will entertain also.

This program is being sponsored by the White Oak Y's Men's Club. It is a program that appeals to the entire family. Tickets are still available, and can be purchased from any Y's man or at the door next Saturday night. Adequate parking facilities will be available.

Mrs. Ken Monroe Of Salisbury Plant Makes BPW Banner

The Salisbury chapter of the Business and Professional Woman's Club wanted a banner to hang at it's dinner meetings.

A committee studied those on the market and found them to high for the budget.

Mrs. Ken Monroe, of Cone Mills Salisbury Plant office, who likes to dabble in needlepoint, volunteered to do a banner in needlepoint. Mrs. Oliver Rufty agreed to help her.

And now exactly 83,768 stitches later the beautiful black and gold banner is finished.

The five symbols of Business and Professional Women are emphasized in the 36 by 36 banner. These Three Employees At Eno To Get 50-Yr. Awards

The three employees of Cone Mills' Eno Plant, Hillsboro, who will be honored tomorrow night (Saturday) for 50 years or more service have a combined record of 156 years with the company. They will receive special awards from President Herman Cone.

These will be presented at the first annual Service Award Event to be held for Eno employees. A dinner honoring 65 employees with 25 years or more service is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at West Hillsboro Graded School. Blue and gold service pins will be presented by Vice President James Webb to the 25-year group. Mr. Webb will be assisted by Superintendent Joseph P. Hughes.

Sydney Green, Eno Plant manager, will be master of ceremonies. Entertainment will be by the King Sisters Trio.

Of the three 50-year employees the one with the longest service record is Mrs. Nelia Belle Faucette, who came to Eno on November 15, 1901. Allen Thomas Doherty began his employment at the plant on August 15, 1903. William Henry Dixon started to work at Eno on June 15, 1905.

Nelia Belle Faucette

Mrs. Faucette, the former Miss Nelia King, was born in Person County in 1888. She is in the Eno Spinning Department where she has performed many different jobs.

She married James G. Faucette on July 1, 1911 in Hillsboro, which has been their home ever since. They have two children, Lenora Faucette Green, who lives near Raleigh, and James M. Faucette head of the Cost Department at Eno Plant.

Mrs. Faucette is a member of the Eno Methodist Church. She is a good cook and likes to work with flowers in her garden.

Allen Thomas Doherty

Mr. Doherty was born in Caldwell, Orange County on September 8, 1892. He is also employed in the Eno Plant Spinning Department.

He married Miss Bessie Chisenhall of West Hillsboro in 1917, and they had three children. Allen, Jr., who worked in the Eno Plant, gave his life in the Korean War. A daughter, Marie, is now Mrs. Rufus Gates. Another daughter, Mrs. Ruby Doherty Eddins is employed at Eno.

In his younger days, Mr. Doherty was a very good ball player. Later his hobbies became hunting and fishing. He says that he gave up hunting when his good friend, Tom Wilson, mistook him for a rabbit and peppered him with number eight shot.

William Henry Dixon

Mr. Dixon was born in Person County on July 22, 1886. He had worked in the Weaving Department and the Carding Department at Eno, and at the time of his retirement last July was a section man on the speeders.

Two of his four children, Mrs. Annie Dixon Kimrey and Rudolph Dixon, are employed at Eno Plant. Another son, Frederick, lives in Raleigh. Raymond Dixon, a son, died several years ago.

Mr. Dixon is a member of the Baptist Church. He too was a good baseball player in his younger days. He still likes to fish and to raise vegetables. He has been a member of the Red Men and the Junior Order in West Hillsboro.

The 65 employees who have had 25 years or more service at Eno join 1,500 employees in other Cone plants in North Carolina who are wearers of the service emblem. The three new 50-year employees join 20 others who have served Cone Mills for over half a century. Approximately 500 are employed at the company's Hillsboro plant.

Eno Cotton Mills Company was established by members of the Ruffin and Webb families in 1896. Thomas H. Webb was the first manager. In 1904, James H. Webb was elected secretary and treasurer. Operation of the mill was in his charge until his death in 1927.

Although Eno Cotton Mills did not become a part of Cone Mills until 1932, a close association with the Cone Export and Commission Company (now Cone Mills Inc.) as Eno's selling agent had been up until than one of 20 years duration.

In 1952 it became Eno Plant of Cone Mills Corporation.

Eno started out as a 10,000 spindle yarn mill and later progressed from plaids to broadcloth to corduroy. Cone corduroy made at Eno

Not Just A Happen So

All the conditions which are desirable for any organization seem to go hand in hand. An efficient plant normally turns out high quality production. Such a plant can be expected to have a low absentee rate and a good safety record. A plant of that type readily adjusts itself to new equipment, processes, and other changes.

All those factors also have a determining effect upon the morale of supervision and employees.

The fact that efficiency, quality, good attendance, few accidents, good housekeeping, and high morale are most frequently found in the same plant is not just a happen so. There are definite reasons why they are companions in satisfactory productive accomplishment.

Each member of management, plant supervision, and all employees truly interested in real job security should realize the significance of each element of job performance.

Certainly it is not difficult to understand that absenteeism affects quality and efficiency. Physical hazards, indifference and carelessness which lead to accidents affect efficiency, quality, and morale. Poor housekeeping and disorderly, haphazard work performance are not only conducive to accidents but are also breeders of inefficiency and inferior quality.

Cooperation and proper relationships not only affect all the essentials of good operations, but in the end also have a direct bearing on job security.

THANKSGIVING WISHES

The Textorian wishes its readers a very happy Thanksgiving.

DOGS
by Farley Manning

Breed History

One of the most interesting studies for dog lovers is the history of the various breeds. How they began, where they came from, for what purpose they were bred—all make fascinating and, at times, exciting reading.

For instance, disaster played a large part in producing the Pekingese and the Chesapeake Bay Retriever to the general public.

In ancient China the Pekingese was sacred. The oldest strains of the breed, believed to have been started in the eighth century, were owned only by the Imperial family. They were guarded as carefully as the crown jewels and a thief who stole one of these dogs faced death by torture. Naturally, the breed was unknown outside of China.

This state of sacred isolation continued until the British looted the Imperial Palace at Peking in 1860. The soldiers found the bodies of the dead Pekingese scattered throughout the palace, apparently killed by the Chinese so they wouldn't fall into "unclean" hands. Four of the little dogs were found alive but frightened, hiding behind some draperies. They were taken back to England and one was presented to Queen Victoria. The other three were kept and bred by Lord Hay and the Duke of Richmond to produce the first of the breed on Occidental soil.

The Chesapeake Bay Retriever, the only native American sporting dog, owes his existence as a separate breed to a shipwreck. In 1807 an English brig was wrecked off the coast of Maryland. Its crew and two Newfoundland puppies were rescued by American sailors. Upon landing the British sailors presented the dogs to several kind inhabitants who befriended them.

These dogs soon earned fame for their ability as retrievers and it is believed that the Chesapeake Bay breed was produced when they were bred to either the flat or curly coated retrievers which had been brought over from Europe.

Anyway, in 1885 a definite type of dog was developed and the breed soon became known throughout the world for their feats in the rough waters of Chesapeake Bay where they often retrieved up to 300 ducks in one day.

Mr. Will Shives has been absent from work the past two weeks with a virus infection and bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. Barbara Misenheimer continues very ill at her home on Crawford Street.

Mr. Robert Shives of Chicago is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Shives. He came by plane to be with his father who has been ill for two weeks.

Bob Linder of China Grove High School has been selected as one of the coaches of the County Senior All Stars for the anual Civitan All Star Game in Salisbury, Wednesday, November 23, at 8:00 p.m.

Coach Linder did an outstanding job at China Grove this season piloting the Red Devils to seven wins against two losses thus far. They have one more game on their schedule and that is with their arch rival Landis.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Linder of Hill Street.

The WMU and Brotherhood of Stallings Memorial Baptist Church gave a surprise birthday party last night at the church for the new pastor, the Rev. Albert Propst, who came to the church in August.

After the evening church service Mr. Propst went to a lower floor room where he usually holds a meeting. There he found the congregation gathered to play games and to serve a birthday cake. Everybody had some of the cake and there was another one for Mr. and Mrs. Propst to take home. Mrs. E. L. Calloway served cake and Mrs. Reuben Hellard served fruit punch. Mrs. Johnny Sutton and Mrs. William Summers led the games.

The congregation gave Mr. Propst a certificate toward a new suit. Mr. and Mrs. Propst and their two-year-old daughter, Debbie, live at 710 Maupin Avenue.

A weiner roast was given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Cook. This has become an annual gathering at the Cooks since they have moved to the country.

CHAT

Wouldn't it have been fun to know them "when":

Lilly Dache was a salesgirl at Macy's in New York.

Harvey Berin was a shipping clerk. (He must have got his "uniform," a sleeveless tan sweater, in those days.)

Evelyn Dawson of Suzy Perette was a Denishaw dancer. (She stained her skin brown and passed as a Hindu.)

Mollie Parnis was a part time salesgirl in a blouse manufacturing company.

Esther Dorothy was a milliner instead of a fur designer.

Ceil Chapman was a schoolteacher in Staten Island.

Roxane of Samuel Winston was a department store buyer.

Adolfo of Emme, now a topflight hat designer, was a lawyer in Havana, Cuba.

Grover Whalen, "Mr. New York", in his autobiography, was a floorwalker.

Brigance was a G.I. and so was Kasper.

"It is my hope that the American people will increase their financial support for education."—NAM President Henry G. Riter 3rd.

Couldn't Prove Payment!

This bewildered young man was sure he had made a cash payment on his garage bill, but he can't find the receipt and so has no proof of it. It would be far wiser for him to pay all his bills with ThriftiChecks and thus keep a record of all payments in his checkbook, have cancelled checks to prove them. A ThriftiCheck personal checking account can be opened with any amount. No minimum balance is required, and the cost is only a few cents a check. Every ThriftiCheck customer has his name smartly printed on his checks at no extra cost. You will never find yourself in this young man's embarassing position if you have a ThriftiCheck Account, so why not stop in soon and talk to us about opening one?

Rev. King To Hold Revival at 16th St.

Rev. R. Von King, pastor of Mill's Mill Baptist Church, Woodruff, South Carolina will begin a series of revival services Sunday, November 20 and will continue until Wednesday, November 30. The services will be held at 7:30 each night at Sixteenth Street Baptist Church.

There will be a special Children's Rally conducted by Ernest Holt each night at 7:15. All the boys and girls of the community are invited to attend this children's session. There will be a period of chorus singing, prayer, contests, and illustrated Bible stories.

Bob Hill, the choir and music director of the church, announced that there will be special music each night of the revival. The men's chorus of the church will bring special numbers and also the regular choir will sing. The men's Quartet of the Church will sing several nights. On Friday and Saturday nights, November 25, and 26, the Mixed Quartet of the Gethsemene Baptist Church will sing at the services.

Each night there will be a different emphasis. Monday night will be Men and Boy's night; Tuesday Women and Girl's night; Wednesday, Sunday School Night; Thursday, Training Union night; Friday, Family night; Saturday, Young People's Night. Sunday, November 27 will be a high attendance day. The Sunday School is seeking for 459 present and the Training Union is striving for 211. The slogan for this day is: 'One more than ever before." Rev. W. L. Bennett is the pastor of Sixteenth Street Baptist Church.

Matrons Plan To Make Christmas Corsages

Young Matrons Club, formerly White Oak Matrons Club, met last Wednesday at the YMCA at Proximity. Luncheon followed the program.

The members made copper wire jewelry for their project for the current month.

Next month's project will be Christmas corsages to be made on December 7, a week earlier than the regular meeting date.

Mrs. Mary Phillips was welcomed as a new member.

Devotional was by Millie Crabtree.

Card Of Appreciation

The family of Jesse Guilford Paschal, 1212 Vine Street, acknowledge with grateful appreciation the kind expressions of sympathy shown during his recent illness and death.

It's Bazaar Time!

Yes, today is the big day. From 1:00 to 9:00 p.m. today the combined women's clubs of Cone Mills Communities are sponsoring a bazaar with all proceeds going to World Service. The previous notices stated the time would be 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. but since the mills will be running Friday, the time has been changed to 1:00-9:00 p.m. to enable people to come by before going to work.

Look Toward Trophies

Edmond's Drug won two from Kool Springs Trailer Park Friday night, with Rita Rothrock bowling high set and game for the winners, 276 and 103. Minnie Wood's 264 set was second high for Edmond's.

For Kool Springs Trailer Park, Kitty Turner's 267 set was high, and Frances Amos bowled high single game, 99.

Benlee's took two from Summit Center Esso, by bowling high team set of the night, 1282. Louise Pinkelton was high bowler for Benlee's with a 290 set and 102 game.

For Summit Center Esso, Virginia Gaylord's 293 set was high, and Clara Roberts bowled high single game of the night, 111.

Tuesday the team captains met at Proximity Y.M.C.A. to discuss the purchase of trophies for winning teams and individuals, to be awarded at the close of the bowling season. Captains present were Minnie Wood, Edmond's Drug; Lois Rierson, Benlee's; Ellen Fisher, Summit Center Esso; and Lorraine Amos, Kool Springs Trailer Park.

include the Torch which symbolizes the educational program, the Wand for the health program, the Ship of Commerce for the international program, the Scroll of Achievement, and the Nike, symbol of today's woman who is taking advantage of opportunities and creating others all over the world.

The symbols over the inscription N.C.F.B.P.W.C. are bound in a gold circle signifying unbroken harmony—endless friendship—a circle of completeness.

The club president will keep the banner, bringing it to each meeting to be displayed behind the president's table.

Along with Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Rufty, Miss Eleanor Southerland and Miss Grace Daniel contributed to the banner by drawing an outline on the needlepoint mat.

Friends and fellow members stopped by and added a few stitches.

Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Rufty are not sure of the exact time it took to complete their project, but say "Those 83,678 stitches do not count the ones that had to be taken out."

SIX To 12 YEAR OLDS

various ways—in the condition of the teeth, the skin, the weight, the posture, or the mental and physical alertness of the child—to name a few.

We should not suppose that because a child is old enough to begin school that he is old enough to assume full responsibility for choosing a good diet. Without continued adult help, encouragement, and example, good food habits will develop slowly, if at all.

Parents interested in checking their child's present food habits to see if there is room for improvement might consider these five points.

1. Does your child usually eat and enjoy three regular, well balanced meals daily?
2. Does he have enough time to eat his meals in a relaxed, friendly setting?
3. Does he see good examples of food habits set by the adults he eats with?
4. Does he choose his between meal snacks wisely—selecting such foods as milk, fruit, vegetables, a sandwich, or a combination of these?
5. Does he eat daily variety of foods, including at least one green leafy or yellow vegetable? At least one serving of orange, tomato, grapefruit or raw cabbage?

And milk at each meal.

If you can answer yes to each of these five points, you and your child are well on the road to good health and good nutrition.

EDNA PLANT WINS AWARD

ing injuries and disabling injuries of various severities. Edna Plant led with 18.1 points, Tabardrey Plant was second with 53 points Granite Finishing Plant, 66.7 points; White Oak fourth, 132.7 points; Salisbury fifth, 140.07 points Print Works sixth, 141.9 points; Pineville seventh, 144.7 points; Revolution eighth, 146.3 points; Rayon ninth, 199.1 points; Proximity Plant tenth, 243.2 points; Mineola eleventh, 244.5 points.

During the three months of the contest the employees of the various plants and units worked a total of 3,897,901 employee hours. During that time they reported 204 accidents which required outside medical care. Thirty of these caused disability ranging from as little as one day to the loss of two fingers. There were 7.7 disabling injuries for every million employee-hours worked. (This is the same as saying that our accident frequency was 7.7) Last year, for the same three month period there were 11 disabling injuris for every million employee hours.
